CHICAGO MAYOR BANS "PRO-BRITISH" BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The American Revolution must still be going on, according to the "patriots" out Chicagoways. Even if we haven't grappled with the Red Coats' throats for over a century, why should we be magnanimous, tolerant, broad in vision, and truth-seeking?

Mayor Thompson of Chicago, by actions, if not by actual words which bespeak such sentiments, has astounded the innocent history-seeking and otherwise would-be-loyal American public by telling them that the American history books they are reading contain facts that are untrue and polluted, and the men whom we always thought rather likable when they told us about the Boston Tea Party and Bunker Hill are really of that terrific catagory, pro-Britishers.

Mayor Thompson has made one A. J. ("Sport") Herrman chairman of a committee to investigate the books of the Chicago Public Library which he and his political friends think are "objectionable" and will make the youth of Illinois who pursue them, think the British were better than they really were.

It was planned to have a sort of "historical bonfire" on the lake shore in Grant Park, but two Chicago lawyers drew out the Chicago municipal code, which showed that it was a penal offense for any one to cut, write upon, scar, deface, destroy, or otherwise mutilate any book in the public library. These lawyers filed suit, and the Teutonic contingent of politicians and their ludicrous and enfeebled counsel in Chicago didn't burn the books.

But if America goes back to be one of Great Britain's lesser sidekicks, it won't be Mayor Thompson's fault or that of the German societies in Chicago, who have been his buddies in his unsuccessful suppression.

Among the books the Chicagoans think so ruinous to American patriotism are 7,000 autographed volumes presented to the Chicago Public Library after the fire of 1871 by Britain's generous notables. Among them are Tennyson, Carlyle, Disraeli, Gladstone, and Queen Victoria herself, who also personally inscribed her gifts.

The Mayor of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, has informed Mayor Thompson that his city would like to have the books the Chicago Mayor is so anxious to dispose of.

Professor David Saville Muzzey, American historian of Columbia University, filed suit against Representative John J. Gorman of Chicago for $100,000 because Mr. Gorman said that Professor Muzzey was "un-American and pro-British." Professor Muzzey holds that such an untrue statement is harmful to his own reputation and to that of other teachers who are seeking the real facts of history.

GERMANY'S ARMING VIEWED MILDLY.

Much excitement has been aroused by two discoveries: that the German Dye Trust in Offenbach is manufacturing poison gasses, adaptable to military use, in connection with the dye industry; and that there is some military discipline, although only with wooden guns, in accordance with the disarmament laws, in Germany.

However, although the allegations made of Germany's preparation for war have not been denied in governmental or industrial circles, various interested governments have long known and approved of this

PAINT AND PATCHES ASKS NEW MEMBERS

At the Student Government meeting on last Wednesday, Bess Lowrance, president, gave the bids to the new members of Paint and Patches. There were thirty in all, and these girls were chosen by a system of competitive try-outs. A banquet was held for the old and new members of the club on Saturday, October 29.

The initiation of Paint and Patches lasted for three days. On Thursday the new girls had to wear paint and patches on their faces and do the bidding of any of the old members. Also, on Thursday and Friday stunts were held on the Refectory steps after lunch for the benefit of the whole school.

On Saturday, the day of the banquet, each new girl had to prepare an original skit and present it before the old members of the organization. Immediately after this a banquet was held at Boxwood Inn.

Each new member was pledged and presented with a gold mask the symbol of Paint and Patches.

Mathematic Club Formed

A Mathematic Club was formed October 13th by the department of majors, under the able direction of Miss Helen Calkins, who is head of the Mathematics Department this year. Miss Isabelle North presided over the meeting until the following officers were elected: Athlene Benton, president; Betty Neill, vice-president; and Dorothy Hunel, secretary and treasurer.

This club is going to endeavor to arouse an interest in a subject which heretofore has had few majors. It also intends to present books pertaining to mathematical subjects to the library. Meetings will be held the first Thursday of each month in Fletcher, where papers will be presented by the members. Declared Physics and Mathematics majors, and second year Mathematics students having a "B" average in Freshman work are eligible to club membership.

The charter members are: Miss Calkins, Miss Robinson, Dot Hunel, Betty Neill, Athlene Benton, Maria Bemiss, Sue Brooke, Ann Conway, Michell Commock, Margaret Hulet, and Isabel North.

The following girls were bid in this year: Tella Barksdale, Frances Cattmann, Beulah Irving, Mary Ladd, Helen Mathews, Eva Sisson, Emilie Turner, Arlene Boone, and Evelyn Ballard.

There was some discussion over what to name the new club. Finally, the members decided to look in the Math book for inspiration. On every page of it they found the word "Limit," so they decided to call the club the "Limit Club."

Dr. Edwards to Speak At Convocation.

Dr. Preston C. Edwards, our new professor of Physics, will speak on Education in India, at convocation tomorrow. Dr. Edwards has lived and taught in India for many years, so he is more than well qualified to speak on this subject.

Freshmen Class Elects Ferguson President

Peg Ferguson, of Cincinatti, Ohio, was elected president of the class of '31 in a class meeting Friday afternoon at five o'clock in the chapel. Her election was received with enthusiasm by the entire Freshmen body.

Peg was president of her Latin club in high school and graduated with honors, being one of the twelve out of three hundred and fifty to have an average of ninety.

Miss Jocelyn Watson and Miss Isabelle North, junior president, acted as tellers. After the results were announced, Peg was called to the front and Isabelle North presented her with the Freshman banner, and intrusted her with the piloting of the Freshman class.

The other nominees for the office were, Charlotte Kent, of Richmond, Va.; Violet Anderson and Katherine Kperr, of Fargo, N. D.; Mary E. Swift, of New Canaan, Conn.; and Margaret Hurd of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

These names have been posted on the Gray bulletin board since Friday.

Before the election, Miss Frazier spoke to the girls about their week-end privileges, and dance cuts.

Seniors Eefertain Sophomores

On Friday night the Seniors gave a "movie party" for the Sophomores. Before the picture began the class of '28 was busy passing all-day suckers and ice cream cones to the class of '30. After several false starts the title was flashed on the screen, Norma Shearer in "After Midnight."

The story relates the adventures of a cigarette girl in a night club. She resists all the temptations presented to her, and falls in love with a reformed burglar. Believing that he is untrue to her, she attends a wild party to show her defiance of him. This evening results in her scorn and disgust. After experiencing great remorse the two forgive

SWEET BRIAR DEFEATS WILLIAM AND MARY

The hockey game with William and Mary on Saturday, October 29, ended with the score 10 - 1 in favor of Sweet Briar. From the opening bully until the half was over, the ball was practically always in the vicinity of the W. & M. goal. During the first few minutes of play, the ball was rushed by Jones for a goal. Again came the center bully, and again the ball was shot into the goal, this time by Jayne. About this time W. & M. onlookers were beginning to get restless. Such comments were heard as "Come on William, I mean Mary!" "Simply outclassed, that's all," "For Petes' sake, they haven't been down this side of the field yet!" and "Come on, team." Their cheer leader yelled herself hoarse, but in vain, for after another contest around the W. & M. goal, Jayne scored again.

The ball was then carried up and down the field, once way down to the S. B. goal, to be saved by Copie, then passed to Huldah, who sprinted down the field, passed the ball in where it was rushed by Jane for another goal.

In the next few minutes both Prior and Woodworth made some very pretty tackles, and there was very good diagonal passing which resulted in three goals in quick succession by Jones, Olcott and West. Again came the center bully, and the W. & M. forwards started off with the ball, only to lose it to Copie, then to Prior.

At this point your correspondent lost track of the play because she was listening to more comments

English Majors Organize

On Wednesday evening the English Majors met at Sweet Briar House for a discussion of the tendencies in Modern poetry. This was the first meeting of the club which was organized at the ten given last week in honor of Dr. Carl Connor, the new head of the English Department. The purpose of the club is the appreciation and enjoyment of English and American literature of whatever periods the members elect.

At the first meeting Dr. Connor described a number of modern verse forms, illustrating the various types by examples from the writings of contemporary poets. The tendencies in modern poetry toward local color, realism, and individualism were discussed by Nora Lee Anthin, Elizabeth Robins, and Mary Hochenaur. Examples were cited from the poetry of Carl Sandburg, Edgar Lee Masters, Amy Lowell, Robert Frost, Vachel Lindsay, Joyce Kilmer, Louise Vtermeyer, and others. An informal discussion followed, and the members enjoyed a pleasant social hour with Dr. Connor.

Sarah Dance was chosen president of the club, and Sarah Everett secretary.

Miss Glass Entertains Members Of Choir

Dr. Glass delightfully entertained the choir on Thursday night at Sweet Briar House. The guests gathered in Miss Glass' living room and sang negro spirituals.

The choir sang, later on in the music room, Miss Glass' favorite song "And Did Those Feet" or popularly called "Jerusalem," the

RELIGIOUS SERVICES TO BE KEY-NOTE OF COMING WEEK

On November 7-8-9-10, the Reverend Mr. Ernest Stires will be at Sweet Briar to lead us in our period of concentrated thinking on religious and ethical matters. There will be a service each night in the chapel at seven o'clock. Mr. Stires will meet various special groups for such discussion as they may ask of him, and also every afternoon from five to six he will be in the Senior Parlor where he can be sought for friendly converse by any individual. Mr. Stires preached for us at Sweet Briar last spring and there are still echoes on the campus of his understanding helpfulness.

At present Mr. Stires is stationed at Bellrose, Long Island, where he has been given a parish without a church and entrusted with the tasks of, "beginning a church" as he phrases it.

Studied at Harvard.

When the world war broke out Mr. Stires was a student in Harvard, too young to join the army. He left college however, went to France to drive an ambulance and finally came back and took up his work at Harvard to go on to its completion. Shortly thereafter he was married to Louise Homer when he had just begun his business career. It was to Mr. Stires as a mature man that the urgent desire to enter the service of the church came, and he brought his family to Alexandria, Virginia, to become a student at the Virginia Episcopal Seminary. His student days, of course, reflected his more mellowed point of view and during these years he went on occasions to congregations as he came to us last spring. He also took regular services at a chapel in Washington to which hard-working, hard-thinking people came.

At Sweet Briar we are delighted that we are to have thus intimately among us a man with a poised mind full of fresh ideas, who at the same time is so young and so vigorous in his approach to religious and ethical questions as to seem one of a college group.

Jocelyn Watson To Attend National S. C. A. Conv.

Jocelyn Watson, president of the Sweet Briar Student Government Association, will attend the convention of the Women's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government at Smith College, November 10 inclusive.

The purpose of the convention is to unify the student government associations in the United States, to discuss their problems and their relations to national and international affairs.

It is open to all colleges in the United States, that have a membership in the association. Only one delegate may be sent from each college.

The convention will consist of general meetings as well as some entertainments for the delegates.

Rotary Club Cars To Be Here at 5:30

Those who have accepted invitations to the dinner given by the Lynchburg Rotary Club on Thursday, November 3, are asked to be ready to go by five-thirty, for the Rotary Club will send automobiles to take them in at that time.

OUR EXTENDED PRIVILEGES.

Recently we have learned of another extension of student privileges, and of another example of cooperation between Faculty and students in matters of government.

At last a solution has been reached for one of the most perplexing problems of our social life — whether or not we should be allowed to enter the fraternity houses in Charlottesville and Lexington unchaperoned. Since we have formerly been permitted to enter only those houses which have resident chaperons, and since the number of such houses is limited to a few fraternities in Lexington, we have often felt the necessity for greater freedom in this respect. And now, when we may accompany students of the neighboring Universities to their fraternity houses at any time before the beginning of the dances at night (about 9:00 p. m), we appreciate more than ever before the desire of the Faculty to help us at all times and in every way.

But it is not enough to merely render thanks to our executives for this last proof of their sympathy and cooperation; we must demonstrate by our actions that we are ready to assume such a responsibility, and worthy of the trust which it places upon us. We must understand the reasons for this privilege—that it has been conceded because our Faculty and the people of Charlottesville and Lexington have realized that the fraternity houses are the only places where men may entertain their guests, since the crowded conditions of the girls' boarding houses have afforded no such opportunities. And we must remember that this concession has come to us as the result of much thought and work, including discussions with the Dean and other prominent members of the University.

Certainly, with this understanding and this memory ever present in our minds we should be duly appreciative of our increased responsibilities, and worthy of the sincere belief in our good judgment which they represent. And if we prove capable of managing ourselves in this, we may rest assured that the college officials will continue to grant us such privileges as may reasonably expected by students who have been found ready for self-government.

ADVANTAGES GIVEN BY CLUBS.

This year more than ever the students of Sweet Briar have shown a greater desire to seek knowledge, not only in class but in groups outside of classes.

Almost every department has a club through which students particularly interested in various subjects have a chance to study that subject in its current aspects. For several years we have had the History club, the Biology club, the Classical club, the French club, and the German club. This year two more have been organized; these are for the study of English and Mathematics.

On the whole, the clubs promote interest in the phases of the work which it is not possible to take up in the class room. The girls have an opportunity to discuss their own opinions and study the back ground, history, and progress of their subjects. This gives the student a more vital interest in her class room work and a better understanding of it.

Boxwood Inn-terests

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Street of Atlanta, Ga., were guests at the Boxwod Inn again this week.

Mr. Frank H. Geer of Toledo, Ohio, spent several days with his daughter Gratia. Mr. and Mrs. Lowrance Bellman of Toledo, also visited Gratia, and Mr. Geer entertained at a dinner for them on October 26.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schade of Holyoke, Mass. visited their daughter Norma, this wek.

Mrs. John L. O'Brien and Mrs. George S. Buck motored down from Buffalo, N. Y., to spend a few days with Frances O'Brien. Mrs. O'Brien entertained a party of twelve at dinner.

Mrs. Theodore Borroum of Corinth, Miss., and Harry D. Redd, of New Orleans, La., are spending a few days with Elenor Borroum.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Milton Carroll drove down from Harve-de-Grace, Md., to visit their daughter, Mary.

Virginia Dall is enjoying a visit from her mother who is staying at the Boxwood Inn.

Laura Howe is enjoying a visit from her mother, brother and cousin who motored down from New York.

Miss Kellog's father and sister are staying at the Inn for several days, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Buck.

Miss Dutton and Miss Wainright drove over to Hot Springs with Miss Weatherlow on Sunday.

Mrs. Jordan and Miss Marshall who are visiting here, drove in Miss Maher's car to visit historic places around Williamsburg.

Miss Maher drove Miss Susan Marshall, Miss Jordan and Miss Katz to Williamsburg last weekend.

Margaret Nelson '24, and Kay Norris entertained President Glass and Dean Dutton at Mrs. Wills' in Amherst before going to the Beggar's Opera last Friday night.

Miss Randall returned to Sweet Briar Saturday, accompanied by her mother, who plans to make her home here. We hope that Mrs. Randall will like Sweet Briar.

Dramatic Club Banquet

One of the most attractive banquets ever held at the Boxwood Inn was the Dramatic Club banquet, which took place there Saturday night. Fifty-five girls were present.

The guests of the hour were Bess Lowrance and Elizabeth Roundtree. The color scheme of the decorations was black and white. The tablecloths were black and white check, the centerpieces were Pierrots and Pierrettes, the favors were black and white caps and ruffs.

The new members came in costume, and were dressed as colored men, jesters, old-fashioned ladies, etc. Black and white, fools and jesters, modern and old-fashioned, united in having a merry time. The banquet was in charge of Katryne Blake, who was assisted by Mona Stone, Alice Tucker and Marjorie Sturges.

Alumnae Notes

Next Saturday the peace and quiet of our campus will be disturbed by the arrival of Pee-wee Payne, (one of the most famous of the debs of Rhea's last year, you remember) Margaret Cramer, (for mer president of Aints and Ases), Betty Miller, Elise Morley Mary Lib Close, and Madeline Brown, who we hope will bring her guitar.

Mrs. Charles McComb (Milo Bates ex-'29) became the mother of a daughter, Margaret Ellen, on October 17th. Milo and her husband are living in Lansing, Mich., at present.

Elizabeth (Buffy) Taylor '23, is to be married to Mr. Frederick Stuart Valentine, Jr., on November 10th at the Monumental church in Richmond.

Katherine Meyer ex-'13, was married to Mr. Edgar John Allegaart, Jr., on June 4th. Their new address is 33 Oakland Ave., Bloomfield, N. J.

Dora Hancock '25, is in the Brush and Needle Gift Shop in Charlottesville.

Mary Gladys Brown ex-'26, married Mr. Jonathon Moore, Jr., in September.

Helen T. Goffigan ex-'27, married Mr. Walter Garland, Jr., on October 2nd.

Lydia Kimball Maxan ex-24, announces the birth of a daughter in July.

Jean Stockdale ex-'16 is with the Union Oil Company of California, in the position of actuary of their retirement plan.

Margaret E. Gehris ex-'23, married Mr. Frank Miller on October 18th, in Melrose Park, Philadelphia. The reception was held at the Oak Lane Review Club. Their new home is in Detroit, Mich.

Frances B. Parker of Larchmont Manor, N. Y., announced her engagement to Mr. Malcolm S. Pray of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Margaret White '26 has been visiting Helen Finch in Lynchburg, Virginia.

We regret to announce the death of Esther Wooten ex-'25.

THE HISTORY OF THE INFIRMARY.

The Infirmary has not always been housed in the present building. During the first year of its existence it was at Sweet Briar House, in the part of the building now used by members of the faculty. The little house in which the bookshop is now, was fitted up for contagious diseases, but luckily there were none the whole year. At that time a little colored boy used to carry the trays from the refractory to Sweet Briar House. Sometimes when he was passing through the boxwood bushes after dark, he was heard to exclaim in an awed voice, "Miss Indy, if you let me alone, I'll let you alone." The next year the infirmary was moved to Miss Mattie's house, where it remained from 1907 to 1925. Then when Fergus Reid was built, it became apparent that more room would be needed for the infirmary, and the present building was constructed. The infirmary was moved to its new and charming home in late October, 1925.

Miss Tyler Speaks In Y. W. C. A. Meeting

Speaking in beall of the Amherst County Health Association on Wednesday night at the Y. W. C. A. meeting, Esther Tyler, student member of executive committee explained the work of the organization among the school children of Amherst county.

Her appeal for a dollar from each student was answered by Jocelyn Watson, who promised the support of the Student Government Association, as also did Betty Prescott and Jane Callison of the Senior and Sophomore classes. Isabel North presented a check for $85.00 as the fulfillment of the 100 per cent pledge of the Junior class.

Bess Lowrance, as president of Dramatics, Evelyn Claybrook, as head of the Athletic Association, Dorothy McGinnis, as the president of the Glee Club, all promised the backing of their various organizations. The spirit of all the girls at the meeting seemed to show that they were eager to support the association in its splendid work.

Faculty Organize Double Quartet

Sweet Briar's musical organizations have been increased by the beginning of a Faculty Double Quartet. The sopranos are Miss Wainright and Miss Mull; the altos, Miss Weaver, Miss Rogers and Miss Robinson; the basses, Dr. Connor and Dr. Edwards, and the tenors, Dr. Scott and Mr. Reid Williams of Amherst.

We are awaiting with anticipation the first public appearance of the Faculty Double quartet.

WORLD NEWS

ITALY HAS FAITH IN PREMIER MUSSOLINI.

At a luncheon given by the Italian Chamber of Commerce in Manhattan, Senator Guglielmo Marconi made the following points regarding Signor Mussolini:

"The government is carried in strong hands. The fortunes of the State are guided by enlightened minds and the country, as a whole, has full faith in Premier Mussolini's energetic policy. He is willing to make great sacrifice for the good of Italy's economic position in the world. There is no false pride in saying that Italians are proud and gratified at the results which have been noted and praised by economists in all parts of the world."

"I met Mussolini when I was in Italy two weeks ago and we exchanged views on a multiplicity of subjects. The varied qualities of his virile and sympathetic mind needs no praise from me. I found him full of the most sublime faith in the future improvement of our social, economic and industrial conditions, and Italians can rejoice in conditions in Italian industry to day."

from the sidelines—"Boy, I don't know what a break is, but we haven't had one," and "Don't let that red-head stop the ball!". She did stop it, however, and the ball went to Winnie West, who dribbled neatly and scored again. The score was now 8-0 in favor of Sweet Briar. The ball then went back to center, where the W. & M. right wing started down the field with it, but was nicely tackled by McNeil, who passed it to Jayne. This ended the first half.

SECOND HALF.

The same line-up started off the second half, and a goal was soon made by Jones on a pass from Williams who had carried it swiftly down the wing. The ball then went back and forth in the central part of the field, but the W. & M. forwards were unable to get by Prior, Copeland and Martindale. Huntington was then sent on for Claybrook. While Huntington was putting on the goal guards, the W. & M. left inside brought the ball down toward the S. B. goal. Tommy jumped back into the goal with only her stick as protection. It was an exciting moment. McNeil, however, saved the day, by crossing over and making a fine tackle. The play then returned to the W. & M. end of the field. Tommy went in for Copie and Sidman for Jones. The W. & M. fullbacks were now marking more closely, and the S. B. team slowed down somewhat, showing the effects of hard playing in the hot sun on a very rough field. The play was now more even, but suddenly a W. & M. forward broke through the S. B. defense and with a sudden burst of speed, scored a goal. The score was now 9-1. Encouraged by their goal, the W. & M. team speeded up, and the play was fast and furious. Bunting then went in for West and Gubelman for Woodworth.

From a penalty corner a shot, cleared by the W. & M. goal-keeper, was flicked into the goal by Jayne. Next Bunting attacked, but the full-backs cleared to the W. & M. wing, who started off with the ball, only to be stopped successfully by McNeil, then the whistle blew, and the game ended with the score 10-1 in Sweet Briar's favor.

The line-up for the two teams was as follows:

Sweet Briar.	William and Mary.
Center—Marion Jayne	Center—C. Sinclair
Center half—Gertrude Prior	Center half—A. Cluwning
Right back—Mary Copeland	Goal—A. Janer.
Goal—Evelyn Claybrook
Subs: Bunting, Gubelman, Huntington, Sidman.

After the game our friendly foes gave the team a tea at the new Kappa house. Everyone was charming to the visitors from Sweet Briar, and all left carrying with them many pleasant recollections of the college, and the good sportsmanship and generous hospitality of its students.

New Hockey Club Started

Hockey enthusiasts will be interested to learn that the hockey germ has spread to our faculty, taking the form of a hockey club.

This club (it has no name at present) is composed of members of the faculties of Sweet Briar and Randolph-Macon. It is also open to Lynchburg people not in school or college, who wish to play.

Practices are held alternating Saturdays at Sweet Briar and Randolph-Macon. They have been followed thus far, by teas. For the present the club plans to play Sweet Briar and Randolph-Macon student Varsity teams with possible games with other colleges in the future.

Members of Sweet Briar faculty who have come out for our 'Sport of Sports' are:

Miss Goreth
Miss Rogers
Miss Ballenger
Miss Crawford
Miss Adcock
Miss Norris

and Miss Knapp, the County Health Nurse.

Request Comes From Head of Archery

The arrows, as any one who has been shooting lately knows, are in bad condition. This is largely caused by the fact that when the make-up rounds are shot, the arrows are lost and left out for the next person to find. They lose points and feathers in consequence. Please be careful to look for your arrows, or special make-up periods will have to be arranged, when it will be seen to that everything is in order.

A. A. Store Adds Cosmetics

The Athletic Store having had such success in selling the famous "sweaters, sweatshirts, shinguards, shoes," has enlarged its stock by the addition of Cosmetics. This particular line is Dr. Blair's Products and the agency for the Store was secured by Miss Norris and Miss Davis. The stock ranges from soap thru tooth paste, creams, tooth-brushes, and powder to cocoa. Some of the Juniors and Seniors might remember that these same products were sold here two years ago, and were very popular.

Democratic Party Discussed By New Voters League

The Senior Study saw on October 25th at 5:00 o'clock the most promising of groups gathered for the discussion of the Democratic party. That the New Voters' League is of interest to us at Sweet Briar was proved conclusively by the crowded room; indeed we might say the thirty-two attending left standing room only.

A program, ranging from the history of the party to speculation on future candidates filled the hour. It was supplied by Misses [illegible]ett, Lucy Harrison Mil[illegible]MacDonald, Alice Webb, Anne Harrison Shepherd, Elizabeth Lee Vanentine and the president, Miss Lillian Wood.

Those present can smile knowingly at the mention of Tammany, of tariff questions, and discourse erudite ly on the platform of 1924.

The next meeting will teach us as much about the Republican party. If you aren't a member of it, you had better find out what you are opposing, come and learn to vote intelligently.

The League's aim is to start Sweet Briar on the road to the open mind that will make for the best of citizenship.

Beggars Opera Enjoyed In Lynchburg

Last Friday night a number of people from Sweet Briar had the pleasure of seeing the Beggar's Opera, at the Smith Memorial Auditorium at Randolph-Macon.

This old opera of early eighteenth century life in England was written in 1728 by John Gay, and was first presented at the Drury Lane Theater in London. Its characters are people of the lower class, presenting a satire on marriage and on the life of the gentry of the day. Gay was assisted by Rich, who composed the music, this combination having given rise to an old pun.

The Beggar's Opera was presented in Lynchburg by the same cast which has just completed a four year's engagement at the Lyric Theater, Hammersmith, London.

As in most English companies, every actor, even in the smallest part, was very good. The parts of MacHeath, Polly Peacham, Lucy Locket, and Mrs. Peacham were especially well played.

The Beggar's Opera has the rather coarse humor of the eighteenth century, which, is, nevertheless highly entertaining. Mrs. Peacham added to the amusement of the evening by fainting in a very strange position with her feet toward the audience, allowing the soles of her shoes and the expanse of her pantolettes to show quite extensively.

The choruses, while not the most important part of the opera, were quite successful. The "Drinking Song" and "Over the Hills and Far Away" are the songs most to be remembered.

Interest Aroused In Plans For New Library

The library staff (as well as the rest of us) is much interested in plans for the new library, and hopes for suggestions from alumnae and others who may have noticed practical and helpful improvements in other college libraries.

manufacture of poison gases, and they are tolerated on the grounds of industrial necessity. It is believed that German Industry prefers to build up peace-time profits, and that Germany, contrary to propaganda, is doing nothing out of the way.

Sweet Briar Orchestra Meets Regularly

At four-thirty every Wednesday afternoon the Sweet Briar Ensemble Society meets in Miss Weaver's studio to practice.

If we did not make such an announcement in the News, many, we grieve to think, would be ignorant of its existence. And yet each week, under the leadership of Mr. Wilkinson, it shrieks out its very definite whereabouts to all who pass by Grammer basement.

The orchestra says it's growing up. Not completely grown up, you understand, just growing. And growing fast. It's mighty proud of its two cellos, played by Mrs. Scott and Mr. Edwards. Another clarinet, too, asserts itself. Katherine Root sits next to Paddy now and together they blow their darndest. With Lisa Guigon and Alice Tucker Jones, Evelyn Mullin numbers the third first violin.

Fanny O'Brien is another new member, playing second violin with Kay Norris and Wilhelmena Rankin. Mrs. Folsom plays the viola, and Amelia Hollis is official pianist. The officers of the society are Mary Copeland, librarian, and Dorothea Paddock, manager.

At present the members are working hard in preparation for a Bainbridge Crist recital to be given within the next two weeks. They are proud of having reached that advanced stage in which they have outgrown their old pieces, and are awaiting anxiously the arrival of dress-up clothes in the form of some bran new music.

Just as eagerly, or more so, would they welcome any new recruits. Anybody who can play an orchestral instrument and is not a member of this honorable society, speak up and "xpress yourself."

Infirmary Has Quiet Week

The last week has been an unusually uneventful one for the infirmary. The effect of the lack of apples has not yet made itself felt, and there are only two patients in the infirmary now. Miss Mallard is much better. Dr. Harley's tulips are in, so she is prepared for all emergencies. Dr. Harley's talk at the last convocation has borne fruit, and the Freshmen have practically given up white bread, while a double order of brown bread is being called for.

Miss Fraser Addresses Students

Miss Fraser, chaperoning Sweet Briar girls, made a trip to Charlottesville, where she made an effort to understand the feeling of the people there toward the presence of girls in the fraternity houses. Several years ago, Miss Dutton saw fit to make a rule that Sweet Briar girls should not accept invitations into the fraternity houses at any time, because the people of Charlottesville had disapproved of the custom.

This difficult ruling now has been lifted and the matter is left to the taste of the girl. A Sweet Briar girl may go to the fraternity houses during the day and in the early part of the evening—her presence there being in every way governed by her standard of good taste.

Miss Dutton heartily endorsed everything Miss Fraser said and expressed her desire that the lifting of the rule, which she had been loathe to make, might be carefully accepted.

Club Holds Meeting

International Relations met on Thursday, October 27, instead of Tuesday, October 25, because of the French Club banquet, Maria Bemiss and Nora Lee Antrim gave a splendid talk on the Mexican Revolution.

It was decided that the world should be divided into fifteen sections, each two girls being given a section to study and know about. In this way every member will be held responsible throughout the year on anything relating to her country, and a livlier interest, it is hoped, will be kept up in International affairs.

It was also decided that not more than three unexcused absences from meetings should be allowed for the year.

each other and continue their wedding plans.

Norma Shearer makes a very beautiful cigarette girl and Larry Gray, a very acceptable burglar.

Between reels bags of pop corn and additional ice cream cones and suckers were passed to the audience. Thereafter a popping of paper bags was heard at the most appropriate moments in the picture.

The Sophomores enjoyed the party of their Senior sisters to the utmost and wish they could express their appreciation of the good time the class of '28 gave them.
